

Kop Flex® Coupling Recertification

High Performance Couplings, typically rotating at 1800 RPM or greater, are recommended to be serviced every 5-7 years. In critical applications such as oil/gas, chemical and power generation, it's imperative to schedule maintenance events with attention to these critical components of drive trains.

Kop-Flex, a world leader in the design and manufacture of High Performance Couplings, offers a 'Recertification Program' to expertly recondition used High Performance couplings resulting in a warranty identical to new. Your couplings are returned in "Like New" condition at a significant value, typically 50-60% of the cost of new.
